each set went through deuce and vantage games.

The match at Apawamis, it is said, is likely to be followed by others at prominent country clubs. While it was often noticeable that the national champions were a bit uncertain, and that Touchard especially was lacking in his old dash and the decisive "punch" at the critical stages, still altogether the pair did well.

From end to end it was a sizzling series of smash-bung railies. In these Little proved a tower of strength at the net, as in the great championship match at Newport last August it was his timely volleys and clean smashes that scored the winning points. Little was aler to every advantage, and, while Touchard was eclipsed, he was able single handed to carry the set by his tremendous smashing.

For brilliancy of maneuvring from deep couri the work of Hackett and Pell has rairely been excelled in this country. They were uniformly steady. The match was close, the games tally standing 27 to 23.
